GENERAL DESCRIPTION

OF

BOSTON, the capital of the State of Massachusetts, the largest town in New-England, and the third in size and rank in the United States, lies in $42^{\circ} 23' 15''$ north latitude, and $70^{\circ} 58' 53''$ west longitude. This town, with the towns of Hingham, Chelsea and Hull, constitute the county of Suffolk; 176 miles S. W. of Wiscasset, 61 S. by W. of Portsmouth, 164 N. E. of New-Haven, 252 N. E. of New-York, 347 N. E. of Philadelphia, and 500 N. E. of the city of Washington. Boston is built upon a peninsula of irregular form at the bottom of Massachusetts Bay, and is joined to the main land by an isthmus on the south end of the town leading to Roxbury. It is two miles long, but is of unequal breadth; the broadest part is 726 yards. The peninsula contains about 700 acres, (other accounts say 1000) on which in 1790, were 2376 dwelling houses, and 18,058 inhabitants, but the increase has been very considerable since. The town is intersected by 97 streets, 36 lanes, and 26 alleys, besides 18 courts, &c. most of these are irregular, and not very convenient. State Street, Common Street, and a few others, are exceptions to this general character; the former is very spacious, and being on a line with Long Wharf, where strangers usually land, exhibits a flattering idea of the town.

Here are nineteen edifices for public worship, of which nine are for Congregationalists, three for Episcopalians, and two for Baptists; the Friends, Roman Catholics, Methodists, Sandemanians and Universalists have one each. Most of these are ornamented with beautiful spires, with clocks and bells. The other public buildings are the old State House, Court House, two Theatres, Concert Hall, Faneuil Hall, Gaol, a Work House, Bridewell, Powder Magazine, a new elegant and commodious Alms-House, 270 feet in length and 56 feet in breadth 3 stories high, pleasantly situated on the bank of Charles River, W. Boston. Franklin place, adjoining Federal Street theatre, is a great ornament to the town; it contains a monument of Dr. Franklin, from whom it takes its name, and is encompassed on two sides with buildings, which in point of elegance, are not exceeded, perhaps, in the United States. Here are kept in capacious rooms, given and fitted up for the purpose, the Boston Library, and the valuable Collections of the Historical Society. Most of the public buildings are handsome, and some of them are elegant. A magnificent State House is erected in Boston, on the south side of Beacon hill, fronting the mall, the corner stone of which was laid with great formality and parade on the 4th of July, 1795: this superb edifice over-tops the monument on Beacon Hill.

The Market Place in which Faneuil Hall is situated, is supplied with all kinds of provisions which the country affords. The fish market in particular, by the bounteous supplies of the ocean and rivers, not only furnishes the rich with the rarest productions, but often provides the poor with a cheap and grateful repast.

Boston harbour is formed by Point Alderton on the south, and by Nabant Point on the north. The harbour is capacious enough for 500 vessels to ride at anchor in good depth of water; whilst the entrance is so narrow as scarcely to admit two ships abreast. It is variegated with about 40 islands, of which fifteen only can be properly called so; the others being small rocks or banks of sand, slightly covered with verdure. These islands afford excellent pasturage, hay, and grain, and furnish agreeable places of resort in summer to parties of pleasure. Castle Island is about three miles from the town, its fortifications, formerly called Castle William, now Fort Independence, defend the entrance of the harbour. This Island was ceded to the government of the United States, in the year 1798, and is now garrisoned by a company of 60 men, under the command of Capt. Gates. For a number of years the convicts were sent to this island and confined to hard labour. They are at present dispersed in the several prisons in the vicinity of Boston, & are hereafter to be confined to the Penitentiary House, which, by order of Government, is to be erected in Charlestown.

The Light house stands on a small island on the north entrance of the channel, (Point Alderton and Nantasket Heights being on the south) and is about 65 feet high. To steer for it from Cape Cod, the course is W. N. W. when within one league of the Cape; from Cape Cod to the Light House is about 16 leagues, from Cape Ann the course is S. W. distant 10 leagues. A cannon is lodged and mounted at the Light House to answer signals.

Only seven of the islands in the bay are within the jurisdiction of the town, and taxed with it, viz. Noddles, Hog, Long, Deer, Spectacle, Governor's, and Apple Islands.

The wharves and quays in Boston are about eighty in number, and very convenient for vessels. Long wharf, or Boston pier, in particular, extends from the bottom of State street 1743 feet into the harbour in a strait line. The breadth is 104 feet. At the end are 17 feet of water at ebb tide. Adjoining to this wharf on the north is a convenient wharf called Minot's T. from the name of its former proprietor, and its form. Vessels are supplied here with fresh water from a well surrounded by salt water, which has been dug at a great expence. Long wharf is covered on the north side with large and commodious stores, and in every respect exceeds any thing of the kind in the United States. In February 1796, a company was incorporated to cut a canal between this harbour and Roxbury, which is now completed.

The view of the town as it is approached from the sea, is truly beautiful and picturesque. It lies in a circular and pleasingly irregular form round the harbour, and is ornamented with spires, above which the monument of Beacon Hill rises pre-eminent; on its top is a gilt eagle bearing the arms of the Union, and on the base of the column are inscriptions, commemorating some of the most remarkable events of the late war. Beacon Hill is the highest ground on the peninsula, and affords a most delightful and extensive prospect. The common below it contains about 45 acres, always open to refreshing breezes; on its east side is the Mall, a very pleasant walk above 500 yards in length, adorned with rows of trees, to which an addition of about 100 yards has been lately made. Charles River, and West Boston Bridges are highly useful and ornamental to Boston; and both are on Charles River, which mingles its waters with those of Mystic River, in Boston harbour. Charles River Bridge connects Boston with Charlestown in Middlesex county, and is 1503 feet long, 42 feet broad, stands on 75 piers, and cost the subscribers 50,000 dollars. It was opened June 19, 1787.

Seven Free Schools are supported here at the public expence, in which the children of every class of citizens may freely associate together. The number of scholars is computed at about 900, of which 160 are taught Latin, &c. There are besides these many private schools.

The principal societies in the Commonwealth hold their meetings in this town, and are, the Marine Society, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Massachusetts Agricultural Society, Massachusetts Charitable Society, Boston Episcopal Charitable Society, Massachusetts Historical Society, Society for propagating the Gospel, Massachusetts Congregational Society, Medical Society, Humane Society, Boston Li-

The foreign and domestic trade of Boston is very considerable, to support which there are three Banks, viz. the Branch, of the United States Bank, the Union and the Massachusetts Bank; the latter consists of 300 shares of 500 dollars, equal to 400,000; the capital of the Union Bank is 1,200,000 dollars, 400,000 of which is the property of the State.

In 1748, 500 vessels cleared out of this port for, and 430 were entered from foreign parts. In 1784, the entries of foreign and coasting vessels were 372, and the clearances 450. In 1794, the entries from foreign ports were 567. In 1795, these entries amounted to 725, of which the ships were 96, barques 3, polacre 1, brigs 185, dogger 1, schooners 362, shallop 1, and floops 65. The principal manufactures consist of rum, loaf sugar, beer, sail-cloth, cordage, wool and cotton cards, playing cards, pot and pearl ashes, paper hangings, hats, plate, glass, tobacco and chocolate. There are thirty distilleries, two breweries, eight sugar houses, and eleven ropewalks.

Eight years ago, the intercourse with the country barely required two stages, and twelve horses, on the great road between this and Newhaven, distant 164 miles; whereas there are now twenty carriages and one hundred horses employed. The number of different stages that run through the week from this town is upwards of twenty, eight years ago there were only three.

A Health Committee, vested with extensive powers, by a late law of this Commonwealth, is to be chosen annually. For two years past the town has experienced great advantages from the laudable exertions of this committee.

Attempts have been made to change the government of the town from its present form to that of a city; but this measure, not according with the democratic spirit of the people, has as yet failed. At an annual meeting in March, nine Selectmen are chosen for the government of the town; at the same time are chosen a town Clerk, a Treasurer, twelve Overseers of the Poor, twenty-four Firewards, twelve Clerks of the Market, twelve Scavengers, twelve Constables, besides a number of other officers. If the inhabitants do not reap all the advantages they have a right to expect from their numerous officers, it is not for want of wholesome laws for the regulation of the weights, measures, and quality of provisions, or other branches of police, but, because the laws are not put in execution.

Besides those called Trained Bands, there are six other military companies in Boston, viz. the Ancient and Honourable Artillery company, the Cadets, Fusiliers, two companies of Artillery, and the Light Infantry. The Ancient and Honourable Artillery company was incorporated in 1638, and the election of a captain and officers of it for the year is on the first Monday in June annually, which is observed here as a day of festivity. Several officers in the American army, who signalized themselves in the late war, received their first knowledge of tactics in this military school.

Boston was settled as early as 1631, from Charlestown; it was called Shaumut by the Indians; Trimountain by the settlers in Charlestown, from the view of its three hills; and had its present name in token of respect to the Rev. Mr. Cotton, a minister of Boston, in England, and afterwards minister of the first church here. Boston was greatly damaged by an earthquake in October 29, 1727, and since that time has suffered severely by numerous fires, the houses being mostly built of wood. The last large fire happened July 30, 1794, and consumed 96 houses, ropewalks, &c. and the account of losses given in by the sufferers amounted to 209, 861 dollars.

It was in Boston that the revolution originated which gave Independence to America, and from thence flew like an electrical shock throughout the Union. It suffered much at the commencement of the war, by the loss of an extensive trade, and other calamities. Boston feels a pride in having given birth to Benjamin Franklin, and a number of other patriots, who were among the most active and influential characters in effecting the revolution.
